BOLD DESIGN

Dit huis in het Brabantse Oisterwijk is een ontwerp van de Nederlandse architect Bob Manders. Ook het gedurfde interieur is van zijn hand. Een interieur dat aansluit bij de karakteristieken van het huis, zijn eigenaar en de omgeving. Het ontwerp is echter meer dan een afgeleide van de drie, het moedigt de onderlinge dialoog aan. De doorware van FORMANI® vervult daarin een verbindende rol.

This house in Oisterwijk in North Brabant was designed by Dutch architect Bob Manders. The bold interior that matches the characteristics of the house, its owner, and the environment was also his creation. However, the design is more than just a derivative of these three elements. It encourages dialogue in which the door fittings by FORMANI® serve a linking purpose.

UNPREDICTABLE HARMONY

Het huis combineert de passie van de ontwerper voor innovatie met een zorgvuldig begrip van het verleden. Daarbij leunt hij op het Nederlandse erfgoed, zoals Rembrandts gebruik van licht, en combineert dit met de smaak van bekende meesters van Vitruvius tot Le Corbusier. Dit resulteert in onvoorspelbare maar harmonieuze ruimtes die overal ter wereld tot hun recht komen.

This house combines the passion of the designer for innovation with a respectful understanding of the past. To this end he is inspired by Dutch heritage such as Rembrandt's use of light which is combined with the styles of the famous masters from Vitruvius through to Le Corbusier. This has created unpredictable but balanced rooms that can be appreciated all over the world.

REALITY IS NOT WHAT IT SEEMS

Typierend is de minimalistische benadering van Bob Manders met een focus op elementen die op het eerste gezicht soms bijna onlogisch overkomen. Een zekere onvoorspelbaarheid die zorgt voor verrassende ontdekkingen. Zoals een draaiende deur die een kamer, die in eerste instantie leeg lijkt, transformeert tot een praktische ruimte vol boeken met een comfortabele sofa. Of een volledig witte wand die verandert in een kunstwerk wanneer het licht erop valt. De door Bob Manders ontworpen hardwarecollectie Ribbon sluit aan bij zijn werk. De eenvoudige vormgeving, strakke lijnen, asymmetrische draaibeweging en afwezigheid van een rozet weerspiegelen de handtekening van Bob Manders.

The minimalistic approach with a focus on elements that might appear illogical at first sight is characteristic of Bob Manders' style. This creates a sense of unpredictability that invokes exciting discoveries. This includes a revolving door that transforms a room that appears empty at first, into a practical space filled with books and a comfortable sofa, or a completely white wall that transforms into a work of art when light is cast upon it. The simple design, clean lines, asymmetrical turning movements, and the absence of a rose in the Ribbon collection of door fittings designed by Bob Manders, reflect his signature style.
